October Speaker – Patrick Lombard

Patrick Lombard, Professional Engineer and Senior Consulting Engineer at Briem Engineering is going to present his section, Welding, Fabrication and Repair. This is from the Process Piping Considerations and Design presentations to be given in Atlanta.

District News

Our April event was held at 4 Hands Brewing Co and was sponsored by Stone Technologies. It featured a technical presentation by Dan Vollmer, North American Zone Brewing Support Team, within the Brewing Raw Materials Group at Anheuser-Busch. His presentation discussed the increase in aroma forward beers; brewers want to know more about the source of this aroma and how to control it. Hop oil is the primary source of hop aroma in beer as a result of how the hops are used in the brewing process. This talk dispelled common assumptions around hop oil and how it relates to aroma in a dry-hop system. We would like to extend our thanks to Dan for presenting, Stone Technologies for sponsoring, and 4 Hands for hosting the event.
